COMPROMISE EFFECTED IN THE CASE OF BOOTH VS. JUMBO EXTENSION CO.

(Special to the Bonanza.)
GOLDFIELD, Nev., March 3.—At an amicable conference this afternoon between C. S. Sprague, George Wingfield and their attorneys an understanding was reached in the apex suit of the Reorganized Booth Mining company against the Jumbo Extension company. A stipulation was agreed to that will enable the Jumbo Extension Mining company to resume work under the present management just as soon as the formal order is signed by Judge Farrington, which will be in the course of a few days at the most. The meeting was of a most conciliatory character. The important decision of the conference was to increase the bond of the Booth company from $25,000 to $62,500, the amount of the dividend which remains suspended by order of court. Funds for the liquidation of the payroll and current expenses of the month of February amounting to approximately $20,000 were released. It was agreed to allow the defendant company the sum of at least $15,000 to cover the preliminary cost of the law suit with the privilege of increasing the amount should it be required. All contracts for the purchase of additional machinery and supplies entered into by the Jumbo Extension company will be honored and money also provided for the operating of the mine, with the understanding that funds received from the sale of ores shall be impounded and subject to the final orders of court. The time for filing the answer was extended from March 5th, as originally set, to May 1st. Both parties are allowed free access to the workings of each property for the purpose of making surveys.

By this action the Jumbo Extension is restored to the position it occupied before with the difference that funds are held in custody of the court and that until an order releasing them is issued stockholders will be deprived of dividends.

SAD SEQUEL TO THE "ABANDONED BABY"

(SOLD TO JULES SMITH AS A
SCENARIO FOR MOTION PICTURE TRAGEDY)

Yesterday the skies were overcast and the going was sloppy. The March wind blew here, there and everywhere and spit snow in the faces of pedestrians. It was a gloomy, melancholy day and something had to be done to elevate the spiritual barometer, as it were. The opportunity came with the birth of a baby burro in the snow and Clem Hertel, who is employed by the Hall Liquor company, was the first to see the chance. If the Bonanza aided him in any respect, this paper has no apologies to make, for it simply contributed its mite toward public jollity.

Chief of Police Evans and his officers were the first to be made victims of what Ruggles of Red Gap might term a "wheeze." He was informed of the inhuman parent that deserted her babe in the snow and he

PAH AND GARDNERVILLE
BASKETBALL TEAMS

The boys' team of the Tonopah high school will complete their schedule on Saturday evening when they play their last game with the quintet from Gardnerville. The two teams will meet on both Friday and Saturday evenings of this week at the high school gym and the two contests will decide the state championship for 1914-15. The Gardnerville quintet, coached by Prof. Hook, has as yet to meet its first defeat, as it has triumphed over Reno, Carson, Lovelock, Fallon, Dayton and Winnemucca successively, and expects to complete this record by taking Tonopah into camp on the 5th and 6th.

The Tonopah team has been practicing faithfully under their coach, Mr. Jackson, for the past month in preparation for these contests, and at the present time is in as good a condition as the northern aggregation. Both Butler and Cuddy, who have been playing with the Tonopah "All Stars," are on the high school squad. There will be an interesting preliminary to each game, as on Friday night the freshmen team of the high school will play the grammar school team and on Saturday evening a game is contemplated between the Tonopah All Stars and the team from Milers known as the Meteors. Line-ups for all teams will appear later.
